Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/632,862	Applicant(s) FUJIMOTO, MASANORI
	Examiner FAWAAD HAIDER	Art Unit 3627

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 5, 6, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Wilson (2001/0020198) in view of Kazumi (JP 10-324398).

Re Claim 1: Wilson discloses a display associated with said POS terminal wherein said display presenting a plurality of fixed amount selections for fuel by the customer (See Abstract and [0003, 0010, 0074, 0121, 0192]). Wilson discloses selecting, with the POS terminal, a fixed amount for items and option items to be purchased, each option item being associated with an option item amount (see [0003, 0053-0057, 0192], Figure 1, Figure 5). Wilson discloses a display associated with said POS terminal said display presenting one or more option items which can be bought (See [0003, 0053-0057, 0086, 0192]). Wilson discloses wherein said display only displays said option items which can be bought for less than said fixed amount (See [0003, 0053-0057, 0086, 0121, 0192]). Finally, Wilson also discloses said POS terminal permitting fueling at said gasoline stand in an amount equal to said balance amount (See [0085]).

However, Wilson fails to disclose a difference. Kazumi discloses a difference between said one fixed amount selection and any option item amounts for option items to be purchased (See Abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Wilson's invention with Kazumi's disclosure of deducting from a fixed amount in order to "deal efficiently without degrading customer service when a purchasing amount of liquid to be sold at a predetermined quantity unit is specified in an amount of money (See Abstract)."

Re Claims 5 and 9: Wilson discloses wherein the POS terminal issues an option item ticket for said option items purchased and a sales receipt (See [0066]).

Re Claim 6: Wilson discloses wherein said option item ticket includes a bar code (See [0067, 0094]).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 6/5/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that neither Wilson nor Kazumi disclose a difference between said one fixed amount selection and any option item amounts for option items to be purchased. Kazumi discloses that "the saved amount of money of this customer is updated to be the difference between the sold amount of money for gasoline actually refueled and the total of the saved amount of money of this customer and the amount of money specified by this customer (see Abstract)." Then in [0053], Wilson discloses "the fueling and retail environment provides customers the opportunity to purchase fuel for their vehicles as well as other goods and services, such as fast food and car washes.”

In [01210, Wilson discloses that “the control system may monitor the transponder value to determine whether that value is less than or equal to a predefined value,” where the predefined value is interchangeable with a fixed amount.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
